Caring for Life

St John Ambulance is the UK's leading first aid charity. We believe that everyone who needs it should receive first aid from those around them and that no-one should suffer for the lack of trained first aiders.

Our 44,000 volunteers are committed to training, caring and saving lives, helping around 130,000 casualties annually. We're also one of the country's largest youth organisations with more than half of our members aged under 25. St John Ambulance Badgers are 5-10 years old, and Cadets are aged 10-18. A new programme for young people aged between 16 and 25 has also recently been introduced.

Our volunteers provide first aid at high profile national as well as local events and provide support to the statutory services, especially in times of emergency. We have a range of volunteering opportunities – from our Neighbourhood First Responder Scheme to our Cycle Responders – all of which make an immediate and real difference to the community.

The origins of St John Ambulance date back to the eleventh century and since then we have continued to provide the best medical care using the latest techniques.
